Overall General Comments (please reflect on your preservice teacher's professional skills, pedagogical content knowledge, and his/her ability to take responsibility of student learning):	Tyler Zeller worked well in the smaller classroom at Apple Creek School. He held children accountable for learning, yet found ways to have fun as well. The students demonstrated respect for him. A noted gift of Tyler was to be able to take a paper and pencil lesson and turn it into an authentic , real-life application, especially in math and science. Tyler generally knew content specifics, but if he didn't, he would study and research the material or ask for assistance. His lessons were sent to me every week, and he was organized in the classroom. Tyler will do well as a teacher, and I wish him the best in his future as an educator.
